Why do we call our priests, "Father"? Why do Catholics worship statues? Didn't the Catholic Church become pagan after Constantine became emperor? Is Baptism only a symbolic washing and why do Catholics baptize infants? Aren't we saved by faith alone? Why do Catholics insist on good works and penances? Can you lose your salvation? Isn't tradition condemned in the Bible? Hasn't the Catholic Church changed its doctrine through the years? Why does the Catholic Church forbid its priests to marry? Does it make a difference which denomination I join? How do we determine which is the Church founded by Christ?
